Federal Gazette & Baltimore Daily Advertiser.

(VOL. 41) BALTIMORE, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1814. (NO 6171.

TO THE PUBLIC,

But more particularly those with whom I have had dealings.

It has been perhaps a thousand times remarked, and that too with much propriety, that the public generally have nothing to do with the misunderstandings and quarrels of individuals. The undersigned will most readily subscribe to this opinion, when taken in a general point of view, but at the same time, claim the privilege to think, that, as there are no general rules to which some exception may not be made—so there are some cases occurring between individuals in which the community at large are deeply interested, such he is inclined to think is his own, which he is now about to lay before his fellow citizens.

The undersigned does not address his immediate and intimate friends, he has tried and proved them, they are staunch, it is to those with whom he is but little acquainted, and to whom he may not be personally known that he appeals for an acquittal from the attacks of his public (as well as his more dangerous) enemies, the sly insidious slanderer. For well as the poet says,

"On Eagles wings immortal scandal fly,
"While honest motives are but born to die."

Believing too that "good name in man or woman is the immediate Jewel of the soul, and that he who robs me of this, makes me most poor, without deriving any advantage to himself"—the undersigned is determined to use the means offered him to reclaim and preserve this Jewel, he hopes at the same time he may not be charged with ostentatious motives, he only wishes the antidote he administers to be applied where the poison has been infused.

Without further preface, he therefore lays the subjoined Certificate and subsequent remarks, before the respectable part of his fellow citizens, they will make their own comments, the undersigned willing to stand or fall by their decision.

NOTICE.

To all whom it may concern, Whereas Wm. Lovell, Sen'r. at a meeting of his Creditors in October 1810, laid before them a statement of his affairs, which satisfied them, that he had met with losses to a considerable amount, and and that he was in consequence prevented from complying with his engagements. Now know ye, that we the subscribers, Creditors of the said William Lovell, Sen'r in consequence of said statement, did at the aforesaid meeting in October 1810, agree to compromise with the said Wm. Lovell, Sen'r for ten shillings in the pound, on having security for the payment of the same, which security was then and there given by the said Wm. Lovell, Sen'r; and we the subscribers did then and there give unto the said Wm. Lovell, Sen'r, a full discharge of all debts due us from the said Wm Lovell, Senr. at that time, agreeable to the sums opposite to our respective signatures.

And whereas, the said William Lovell, sen'r hath since not only complied with the terms of the said compromition of ten shillings in the pound, but has also paid unto us, the subscribers, the other ten shillings in the pound, being in full of all our respective claims on the said William Lovell, sen'r at the said meeting in October, 1810. We, the subscribers, at the request of the said William Lovell, sen'r, have granted him this certificate, to make use of as occasion may require.

BALTIMORE COUNTY, ss.

Personally appeared before me, the subscriber, a justice of the peace for the county aforesaid, Dennis Sowtland, and made oath in due form, that he waited on the persons subscribing to the foregoing instrument of writing, and that each and every of them did, in his presence, declare the same to be their acts and deeds.

Sworn before JOHN AISQUITH.

The aforegoing list of names are all the persons to whom I applied for indulgence, except two who have not received the additional ten shillings in the pound, on their claims one $162, the other $285, because they are implicated in a suit which I have instituted for gross defamation, and which will be determined by a tribunal of our joint fellow citizens. Besides the above, I was indebted to different individuals, Mechanicks and others to the amount of $2,000, all of whom have been fully paid to the last cent.

And here perhaps I ought to apologize for occupying so much of the time of the reader, but as I contemplate retiring the ensuing year from public life I wish to do it with a character in the estimation of my fellow citizens, such as my own conscience awards to me, and not such as one at my envious calumniators have been industriously endeavouring to affix to me. They will have their reward. I already enjoy mine.

Should the curious sceptic ask, how has this man, who only four years ago compromised with his principal creditors for ten shillings in the pound, been able to pay the additional ten shillings, and now propose to retire from his business? They shall be answered, because, perhaps the public may be benefited by the information.

First then—The subscriber has baked on an average within the last four years, or since the adoption of his new system, as much flour as ten Bread Bakers—take them into consideration the necessary expence of ten families, together with rents and additional journeymen's wages, you may fairly estimate the cost at 1000 dollars per annum—say $10,000

A saving, by being able to purchase large quantities of flour when at a reduced price, of at least	3,000
By selling for ready money only, and thus preventing the accumulation of bad debts, together with the expence of horses, carts, &c. at a low estimate per annum—say	2,000
	$15,000

Profits relinquished to the public by selling more weight for the same money as to the quality my numerous customers are the best judges) by a fair calculation on the whole quantity baked per annum, at least 5,000

$10,000

Balance in favor of the undersigned in consequence of his improved mode of conducting business after sacrificing as before stated, for the benefit of his customers, 100 dollars per week, 10,000 Dollars.

For the encouragement he has received from an enlightened public, he renders his most grateful thanks, and is with the highest consideration their obliged and devoted humble servant,

WILLIAM LOVELL, Sen'r.

Farm, Mill Seat and Timber FOR SALE.

A Valuable Farm in a very healthy and good A neighborhood, five miles from Baltimore, and situated two miles between the Reister's town and the Fall's Turnpikes; it contains

136 1-2 acres of natural good Land,

On part of which plaster, is sold by Farmers, would act. The western run passes through it with 35 feet fall to an advantageous Mill Seat, near the improvements, and convenient for any water work. 45 acres of this Land are in good thick heavy timber, and about as much in young well thriving woods interspersed with timber. The timber land is said by good judges to contain from 30 to 36 cords of wood per acre. The cleared land consists, in one orchard, two fields and one timothy mowable meadow.—The improvements are a handsome, neatly finished two story stone Dwelling House, sufficiently spacious and conveniently distributed for a large family; a large and comfortable farm house, good stables, threshing and barn house, a dairy with a fountain of excellent spring water contiguous, and only fifty yards from the dwelling, poultry and other out houses. A valuable garden of about three acres is laid opposite the Dwelling, is well stocked and walled in from each corner of it; requires by a constant stream different from the one described above, and which could be easily applied to a distillery or tan yards. This valuable farm with all its much desirable conveniences, and good title, may be had at a moderate price for cash; or on paying a good part of the purchase money the day of sale. Terms will be made accommodating for the residue. Possession the first of may next or sooner if required. For more particulars enquire of Mr. Uriah Brown, living on the Falls Turnpike Road opposite the Washington Cotton Manufactory, who will show the premises, and a regular survey and map of this land, with a full of the adjacent water.

N. B. Irish Brown makes Deeds, Leases, Wills and other Writings, and also, Surveying, Calculating and Mapping of Lands with the greatest accuracy.
