tion was, that Mrs. Hunter having en- | CHOOSING TO BE HANGED RAtertained, for some time previous a dis like to Miss Thomason, lay in ambush cred for one thousand ind costs

POETRY:

EARLY DAYS.

Oh! give me back my early days, The fresh springs and the bright That made the course of childhood's ways A journey of delight.

Oh! give me back the violet olue, The woodbine and the rose, That o'er my early wandering threw The fragrance of repose

And give me back the glittering stream The fountain and the dew. That neither day nor nightly dream Can ever more renew I would give all that tears have bought,

Of wisdom, wealth, or love, For one sweet hour of early thought, This sordid world above-One happy flight, away, away, On wings of tameless power, One golden morn, one glorious day,

In childhood's rosy power-One sail upon that summer sea, Whose passing storms are all Light winds that blow more merrily, And dewy showers that fall. But ah! that summer sea no more Shall bear me gaily on-My bark lies on the weary shore, My fluttering sails are gone. Tis not that hope her radiant bow Nolonger bends on high, But light has faded from her brow, And splendor from her sky. 'Tis not that pleasure may not bring, Fresh gladness in my breast, But I am worn with wandering To find a home of rest.

A REBUKE.

The New York Evening Star holds the following language with reference to General Jackson's mouth piece; of the U. States as he has heretofore done, briar removes—her delicate fingers present charges the members with having been bri- to his refreshed senses each beauteous flower bed, or dares to question their constitutional that sheds its perfume on their illuminated rights, he will be arrested by order of the way. House and imprisoned during the session. This fate we know awaits him-and had it been the glorious continental Congress, he would ere long this have had his reward.-Why then continue this disgrace to the country and the government?

GENTILITY.

pretty place to live in, 'The Chroni- from a member of the family, and received cle says; The streets of the village, if the subjoined letter in reply an exhibition of the evening scenes [To the Editor of the City Gazette] were made, would present to the calm spectator a motley but highly curious | Dear Sir-Since my return home, I have he gets them-Boston Post. spectacle-timid and deligate females inquired of Col, George Brown jr. and J.H, frightened and insulted - private hou | Cross, Esqr. respecting the Gov. Wilcox ses assaulted and defaced-drunken trunk. They went down and opened the disturbers masters of the night—shop in the sloop New York, Capt. Robert Brown mendous explosion of a powder magazine sion comes directly to the point. His Boston I encountered condolence on only know that the Secretary of State signs torn from their places, trampled Jr. and was taken from on board by E. W. took place at Puebla, on the 22d of August manner and mode of speaking indi all hands. You are very unfortunate is a gentleman of talents and informaon, and broken to pieces by a gang of Babcock, who is grandson to Gov. Wilcox, near 2 o'clock, P. M. The magnificent e- cate rapidity of thought, and it struck said my friends, Mr. Webster set out tion, of agreeable manners, an in con-

How to Gull a Creditor.

A person in extensive business as a follows:draper in Aberdeen, was lately under DEAR GRANDFATHER-I have sent you. In 24 hours after, about 107 dead bodies of no ordinary person. His mind is bold ons. ficiency to amount of £4.000. The Come, &c.

The Governor unlocked the trunk, and purport: - By cash, lent Don Pedro for and after one or two pulls upon the cover er Miguel, £4 000. This entry of The Governor, then, or soon after, came down into wonder at the fellow's im pudence, and wailings for their loss, by the name of William Jones, shot been weighed and found to be 25 pounds. his sister. It appears that a gun had The pistols were both loaded with balls. ness he frequently handled and snap- written in haste. ped, was on the previous evening char ged by a neighbor and friend, preparatory to a contemplated sporting excursion. Unacquainted with this fact, the unfortunate young man, in an idle moment, innocently took up the gun er's unguardedness .-

PAINFUL.

Chronicle.

THER THAN MARRIED.

place of execution, declared his intention to ed by the Marquis of Wellesley. marry the girl, and demanded her pardon Two tremendous fires have occurred the girl was not averse to the match. The The three great monarchs of Continental FROM FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING FOR 1324 Neapolitan then gallantly told the female Europe—the Emperors of Russia and Austhat he was a gentleman of some property, tria and the King of Prussia have held a was spirited and full of vivacity. He One incident in the life of Mr. Liv- and manner! The latter was neither ve. hand and that he wished be was a King, that he meeting or Congress of Sovereigns on the informed us that he had been unwell ingston is worthy of record, as affording hement or subdued. It was the manuer of might offer her a stronger proof of his at- frontiers of Bohemia, the 11th September, for several days, and having the fa- a fine illustration of the character of the conscious power, tranquil and self pos-"I am fully sensible of your affection and ses. generosity, but I am not mistress over my own heart, and I cannot belie my sentiments. Unfortunately, they control my fate—and I prefer the death with which I am threatened, to marrying such an ugly fellow as you.' The Neapolitan retired in confusion, and the woman directed the executioner to do his of-

THE HUSBAND.

The fond, protecting love of a devoted husband, is like the tall and stately oak, that rears its graceful foliage beside some happy cot, to which its leafy honours afford reviving shade-which its spreading branches shelter the melodious songsters of the verdant grove, who within its hallowed precincts nurture their callow brood, unmolested by the wanton tyranny of school-boys

Oh! 'tis the effulgent Ægean shield, which casts, far and wide, its bright, defensive rays around the timid, shrinking form of the best, most tenderly beloved object of his warm heart's pristine love and venera-

The hallowed affection of such a husband is the far-off goal to which the adoring wifes There is not perhaps a more odious char- of my companion being a decided sup- sure that I now give public expression gitation, and merge the lawyer and the most ardent wishes fly, borne upon the strong acter in the world, than that of a go-between porter of his government, but sincerity to those sentiments of admiration and statesman in the companion—a more er ending love. Cheered by the smile of size to the counter the smile of size to the counter to the smile of size to the smile of size to the counter to the smile of size to the counter to the smile of size to the smile of size to the counter to the smile of size to the er ending love. Cheered by the smile of ries to the ear of one neighbor every injuri-such a faultless being the envisor supports one observation that happens to drop from parching heat, the ruthless winter's pinch- the mouth of another. ing cold, to her impart no pang; they pass Such a person is the slanderer's herald, & policy could make him hesitate under

How beautiful is such a union! How much more rare than beautiful! Oh! 'tis a sight that angels might delight to fix their eceiving strength, the blissful pair tread of the House of Representatives. life's thorny path, on "light fantastic toe," "If Blair standers and insults the Congress or woe—his powerful arm each dangerous

INFERNAL MACHINE.

We published a few days since a para-graph stating the attempt made by some Reasons why a ship is called she. wretch in New York, to destroy the life of Gov. Wilcox of Rhode Island, by sending ment. to him a large quantity of gunpowder. The Pawtucket we think must be a very some particulars of the strange transaction

WESTERLY, OCT. 19th, 1833. miserable wretches, who want only tails to be monkies. Well said, Mr. Chronicle I We like frankness of all the monkies of the trunk directed notes. They then took the letter, which artillery, shops of fabrication and other purity more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston it more agreeable to carry truth by a came known that I had visited Boston in the mail carriage to the diffice of the Company (what Company we had been used as an arsenal for bight truth the mail carriage to the diffice of the Company (what Company we had been used as an arsenal for bight truth the mail carriage to the diffice of the Company (what Company we had been used as an arsenal for bight truth the mail carriage to the diffice of the Company (what Company we had been used as an arsenal for bight truth the mail carriage to the company (what Company (to Gov. Edward Wilcox, Charlestown R,I. The sad catastrophe is attributed to five coup de main, than to await the slower the questson-Did you see Mr. Web-(WITH CARE AND THIS SIDE UP,) and o- royalists, who had been banished to Acapul- process of patient induction. It is ev- ster? was a consequence as constant deficit was, however, curiously met by his wife proceeded to throw back the cover, an entry in his books to the following when they found it would not readily open, carrying on the war against his broth- they saw the instrument of Death!

course startled the creditors, who be- to this village, and informed his grandson E. Clemente de la Torre, Mariano Villegas, Isgan to entertain strange ideas of the W. Babcock that his brother, Benj. Bab- idre Espinosa, Ignacia Balvaboso, Eugenie defaulter's constitutional heroism—but cock, in New York, had sent him the trunk Hermoso. as described. E. W. Babcock, went home no bond being forthcoming as guaran- with him and readily discovered the letter tee of repayment, it may easily be con- to be a forgery. The whole affair remained ceived, their admiration if ever they a secret till within a few days, when it was seriously entertained any, soon coole | thought best to make a new attempt to open the trunk.

Col. Brown says, he took the trunk and ruddy growing boy for his brown holland experience in public life bas been ve The forehead of Mr, Webster is high as to look in—took a pair of scissors, and cut loaf buttons on his jacket, the redness of his tensive knowledge, and amiable char- neath the eyebrow is remarkably large the strings attached to the triggers of the carriage, his fondness for tarts, his contempt tensive knowledge, and amiable char- neath the eyebrow is remarkably large. pistols, and opened it:says one of the strings of the higher luxuries of turtle and venison; acter have deservedly acquired for him The eye is deeply set, but full, dark was shorter than the other, and was a wea- and you have the sum and substance of all the admiration and esteem of people and penetrating in the highest degree; ker one—and, in the first attempt to open it, English criticisms on America.—Ib. A distressing exent occurred at To- they broke two of the strands—consequentbacco-Stick in this county on Thurs. ly it stretched enough for them to look in, day of last week. At that place on before it began to move the stronger one, mor of a rupture between the Globe and Mr. the morning of that day, a young man which, if it had not, it must have destroyed Van Buren:-

Very respectfully,

I remain your ob't serv't.

COTTON CROP IN TENNESSEE.

A gentleman called upon us y esterday, & tobacco manufactory. and pulled her trigger: the sad conse- | Mullum, near La Grange, in Fayette counquence is already stated, his sister nev- ty, has raised the present year, on 155 acres er afterwards spoke, and died in a few of land, with 14 hands, about sixty-two approaching his 57th year. hours, the hapless victim of her broth. thousand five hundred pounds of clean cotton, and has sold the same at the gin for 16 cents per pound.

It was for merly a law in Germany, that Liverpool dates to the 20th September are for her, with a servant or servants to a female condemned to capital punishment received. Donna Maria, Queen of Portugal The following sketches of distinguish plex on. aid, near a road which Miss T. was accustomed to travel, until the young girl of Vienna, was on the point of being executed, when they caught tied and whipped her unmercifully. The and whipped her unmercifully. The area a verdict of $2000, but he area a consent of parties, a judgment was en- Struck with her charms, he determined to bout to visit Ireland. Lord Anglesea has save her, and running immediately to the | quit the Lord Lieutenancy, which is resum-

> according to the custom of the country. | Constantinople; the first destroyed 2500 hou-The pardon was granted on condition that ses, and the other between 8 and 900.

SHOCKING MURDER!

which warning he paid no attention. Or Saturday, a constable was sent to close the door of his shop, which was done while threats of vengeance, and too truely did he execute them. He procured a gun and loaed it heavily with duck shot, and went i search of his devoted victim-he met him now in confinement. The excitement is unheeded by her well-defended head, light is altogether more odious than the slanderer any circumstances to express boldly as the fleecy cloud; unregarded as zephyr's himself. By his vile officiousness, he makes what he felt strongly. balmy breath. Supported by his manly that poison effective, which else were inert; form, what sorrow can assail, what anxious for three-lourths of the slanders in the world care invade her bosom's calm repose? Ser- would never injure their object, except by ene as the smooth surface of the glassy lake, the malice of go-betweens, who under the it the advantage of forming acquain. Cape Sable to Lake Superior, his name by a thousand influences, of which

GO-BETWEEN.

VERMONT.

SHIPWRECK.

Because they are useless without employ-

Because they look best when well rigged Because their value depends on their ag Because they are upright when in stays. Because they bring news from abroad. Because they wear caps and bonnets, Because they are often abandoned.

Because they are often painted.

TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION.

creditors, on examination onul a de- a present-open the trunk und keep it till I the youths attached to the works, had been and acute, his talent for business confound among the ruins, and much more than fessedly of the first order; and enjoy. that number were probably among the rub- ing the esteem of his countrymen, there bish not yet dug up or removed.

> to be examined before a council on the 27th. | tined to play a conspicuous part in the They are accused as accomplices in many politics of the union. other heinous and mischievous deeds, with the assassin Andrade. Their names are,

America, in which the cause of America is ry first line of his profession. As a phi- glance rivited my attention. I had We beg the Editor's pardon.

The New York Star thus notices the ru-about to break a lance with Mr. Van Buren remained unloaded in the house for These are all facts that have come to my Kitchen Cabinet has been shown the way to some time, and which in mere playful- knowledge-I need not tell you, that I have the cave, and have learnt to repeat the mag ical words "open sesame."

> R. G. BURLINGALE. the city of Mantilla, and consumed ten thousand dwellings, laying waste an extent of three miles, and leaving 30,000 houseless, the principal part being those employed in the

Mr. Clay was born april 12, 1777, and is

A cabinet maker in N. York has invented a chair for invalids, which may be used as a U. S. Gazette. | bedstead, an easy-chair, or a cradle,

American Portraits.

PRESIDENT JACKSON.

with a headache, but in a few minutes sive correspondence with the most be happened to speak were altogether at he appeared though from the heaviness eminent political philosophers of the of inferior interest. In the supreme in of his eye, evidently in a state of con- age, and among others, with Bentham, court he delivered several legal argu. siderable pain. This, however, had by whose enlightened advice he profes- ments, which certainly struck me as man no influence on his conversation, which ses to have largely profited. admirable both in regard to matter Comm "Alas! Sir," replied the girl, which has filled all the journals with surmitigues of a levee to encounter on the man. His labors connected with the segard. Md. Republican following evening, he had retired early code were already far advanced, when Mr. Webster may be at once acquit. penetration in order to recruit for an occasion which his whole papers were destroyed by file ted of all participation in the beseting enbinet d A letter from Pensacola, under date of required the presence of all his bodily This happened at ten o'clock at night sins of his age and country. I even 23d inst. details the following barbarous pro- powers. When this subject was dis. and at seven on the following worning doubt, whether, in any single interest ceedings-"A most horrible and cold-blood- missed the conversation turned on na- with unbroken spirit, he began his he can be fairly charged with uttering ed murder was committed on the body of tional politics, the Indian question, the task afresh! Few men are endowed a sentence of mere declamation, - His a vagabond. It seems that the fellow kept powers of the supreme court, and a with such buoyancy of spirit, and in- speeches have nothing about them of hout that a an unlicensed grog-shop, and had been repeatedly warned by the Mayor to close it, to had excited considerable attention. In person, Mr. Livingsto distinguished PERSON it would be nance, though without elegance of fea- and reason. - He utters no periods full was at dinner. When he returned on find- unpardonable were I to say any thing, ture, is peculiarly pleasing from the of noise and fury, like the voice of an ing the door closed he walked off, uttering but I heard them with deep interest, benevolence of its expression unusual idiot, signifying -nothing, and it cerand certainly considered them to be at his years which lights up his eye tainly exhibits proof, that the taste of marked by that union of boldness and when he discourses on any interesting the Americans is not yet irretrievably sagacity, which is generally supposed subject. His manners are those of a deprayed when an orator likeMr. Web. near the office, took deliberate aim at him, to form a prominent feature of his finished gentleman, yet rather, I should ster who despises all the sale and petty and killed him on the spot. The wretch is character, General Jackson spoke like imagine, the spontaneous result of an trickery of his art, is called by accla. a mand was so thoroughly convinced of innate and natural delicacy of thought mation to the first place. very great, especially among the Creoles, the justice of his views, that he an- and feeling, than of intercourse with In conversation Mr. Webster is parnonuced them unhesitatingly and with- polished society. To the courtesy and ticularly agreeable. It seems to delight out reserve. The openness might be kindness of this eminent individual, I him when he mingles with his friends, increased, perhaps, by the knowledge feel deeply indebted. It is with plea. to cast off the trammels of weighty conothing but thestrougest motives of State

MR. Calhoun. by a certain vivacity of eye which erful mind, pened it. The letter was in substance as co, on account of another villany attempted ident indeed, that the Vice president is and unvarying as that of the seas The five conspirators were taken, and are can be little doubt that he is yet des-

EDWARD LIVINGSTON.

TAIT'S MAGAZINE for September, has an retary of State. Bred to the N. York at a ball. A dozen people pointed him losophical lawyer, he stands not only never seen any countenance more ex "Imagine a battered old beau quizzing a unrivalled, but unapproached. His pressive of intellectual power.

statute books of other States.

compilation of this code were for ma- Webster's forte to be in the department duty of stage proprietors to provide ny years unwearied and assiduous. of pure reason. I cannot conceive his good and sound carriages, safe horses, Men of more limited knowledge, and even attempting an appeal to the fee and sound harness; and not to take inferior powers, would have been unfit, lings. It could not be successful: and more than a geasonable load and a se for the task, men of less enthusiasm he has two much knowledge of his ow that well stored; in the night sea n to would have shrunk from it in dismay. power to encounter a failure, in debat | arry lights, and, with all these, they Mr. Livingston, fortunately for himself his very countenance must tell. Hew are accountable that the driving i. pro-

and his country, braved all difficulties, men would hazard a voluntary sophism devoted to it the whole energies of his under the glance of that eye, so co'd

Of the opinions expressed by this above the middle height. His counte- hicle not of sound merely, but of sense DANIEL WEBSTER, ceeded in riveting most strongly the at- understand the British constitution, not tention of the whole Union, is undoubt- as a mere abstract law and institution, edly Mr. Webster. From the Gulfof but in its true form and pressure, as it My visit to Washington brought with St. Lawrence to that of Mexico, from works and acts on the people modified tances with many distinguished indi- has become, as it were a household his countrymen in general know noviduals, of some of whom I would wil- word. Many disapprove his politics, thing. lingly record my impressions. First but none deny his great talents, his

The result of all this was, that the Times & Advertiser. name of Webster became invested in my ear with an adventitions cacophony. Centreville: B. S. HIT pulsion, and the very preeminence of the gentleman had been converted into something of a bore. To Washington Mr. Edward Livingston, the Sena. however I came armed with letters to Rye, 66 cts, tor for Louisiana, shortly after my de- the unconscious cause of my annoyancparture from Washington, became Sec. The first night of my arrival I met him and places the reputation of its author and when he smiles the whole expres- vility with him. on a secure and permanent foundation | sion it communicates is at once chang- | 30- Any person disposed to patronize the From this code the punishment of death ed. His voice is clear, sharp and firm Moderator, can see the Specimen No. by On the 26th of March a fire broke out in is excluded, and Mr. Livingston is a without much variety of modulation calling at our office. warm advocate for its removal from the but when animated it rings on the ear like a clarion.

plex on.

Animated by the zeal of a philan- would be enough to wither up a volume stage phnishment which could be discovered display his great power as a debater. We found the president had retired in Europe. He maintained an exten- During my stay the subjects on which | F gaudiness and glitter. Words with of our folk In person, Mr. Livingston is rather him are instruments, not ends, the veto thin

em did

chance i

Bast With

rarely known in any country. As a polittician, the opinions of Mr. Webster are remarkably free from intolerance. The person however, who has suc. He is of a few men in America who

The Anti-Masons have again succeeded in the rank is Mr. Cathoun, the Vice unrivalled fertility of argument, or his Mr. Van Buren, then Secretary of lingering gaze upon lost in mute rapture in this State. Mr. Palmer is Governor and President of the United States. This power, even still more remarkable, of State, and now Vice President, possesgentleman was formerly a candidate for rapid and comprehensive induction ses, perhaps, more of the manner, which the Presidency but resigned his preten- In short it is universally believed by in England would be called that of the sions in favor of General Jackson. his countrymen, that Mr. Webster is a world, than any other of the distinguish-A dreadful shipwreck occurred on the Subsequent differences, however, with great man, and in this matter I certain- ed individuals whom I met in Wash-31st August, within half a mile of the port that eminent person, have severed by make no pretensions to singularity ing. He is evidently, a clever man, of Boulogne. A vessel said to be the Ampi- their interests, and it is not generally of creed. Mr. Webster is a man of whom with a perfect knowledge of character passengers on board, was cast away, making succeeding at the next election. Mr. vebster is a man of whom with a perfect knowledge sol character any country might well be proud. His and the aprings of human action. Neiwith the crew, 154, all of whom except three Cathons is about the mildle being is at once extensive and ther his conversation, nor his manner Calhoun is about the middle height, minute, his intellectual resources very is marked by any thing of official respare and somewhat sloue i g in his great, and whatever may be the sub- serve. Indeed where the whole busiperson. His countenance, though not ject of discussion, he is sure to shed on cess of the government is conducted by heMr. Cher committees of the Senate and Representations of the senate and Representations. might redeem plain features. His head I confess, however, I did meet Mr. State can have few secrets, and those sentatives, an American Secretary of In is large and somewhat disfigured by Webster under the influence of some not of much value. The opponents of a quantity of stiff bristly hair which prejudice. From the very day of my the ministry however, accuse Mr. Van rises very high above his forehead. In arrival in the United States, I had Buren of being a manœuverer in police conversation he is pleasant, and remar | been unvoluntarily familiar with his ties -a charge I presume, to which he Because man knows not the expense till kably free from that dogmatism which pretensions. Gentlemen sent me his is obnoxious only in common with his constitutes not the least of the sins of speeches to read. When I talked of brother statesmen, of whatever party, the Americans. Mr. Cathoun evidently visiting Boston, the observation unit for where independence is impossible, disregards all graces of expression, and formly followed. Ah! there you will finesse is necessary. But on the de-The New Orleans papers contain some whatever be the subject of discus- see Mr. Webster. When I reached tail of party politics I say nothing, I

NOVEMBER 2, 1833. Baltimore Market-Wheat $1,20, Corn 64

Or Our printers neglected to give credit to the Philadelphia Intelligencer for sevearticle on Hamilton's Men and Manners in bar, he early took his protion in the ve- out to my observation, and the first ral articles published in last week's paper-

7 The specimen No. of a new, neat and large paper, called the Moderator, to be published at Washington, and devoted to the interests of Judge M'Lean of Ohio, as the next president, is before us. The editor avows his predilection for democratic principles, not prompt in the payment of such trib- the nose prominent, and well defined; and in a manly and energetic manner, dethe mouth marked by that rigid com velopes some of his views with regard to the Mr. Livingston's fame however, is pression of the lips by which the New action, and spirit of our government. Whethnot American, but European. The Englanders are distinguished. When er we unite with the Moderator or not, in Rumors are set affoat that the Globe is criminal code which he has framed for Mr. Webster's countenance is in re- support of the editors views, we shall regard Louisiana, is confessedly a magnificent pose, its expression is cold and forbid him as a powerful master of the press, and specimen of philosophical legislation, ding, but in conversation it lightens up. shall be happy to be on terms of editorial ci-

In a recent case, in Cincinnati, the The labors of Mr. Livingston in the As an orator I should imagine Mr. court instructed the jury that it is the