Centreville Times, & (E.S.) PUBLIC ADVERTISER

MEN AND MEASURES.

CENTREVILLE (E.S.) MD.
SATURDAY EVENING JUNE 21.

We have been unavoidably compelled to defer several articles both original and selected, intended for to-day's paper.

The proceedings of the meeting of last Saturday, for the nomination of delegates to the assembly, have not been handed to us. But we learn, that Danl. C. Hopper, Jas. Roe, Roderick Erickson, and Tho. Roberts, Esqrs. were the gentlemen fixed upon as candidates to be supported by the friends of the Administration, for Queen Ann's County. We regret exceedingly, to perceive by the card of Messrs. Hopper & Roe, published in another column, that circumstances beyond their controul render it necessary they decline the honour intended them by their fellow citizens.

It is therefore necessary that the committee meet at some convenient day, (say 12th of July,) in Centreville, and nominate two suitable persons to fill the vacancy thus occasioned in the nomination.

We learn from the Albany Chronicle of the 11th inst. that at the Convention of Delegates, assembled in that city on that day 105 members attended. Several patriotic resolutions, expressive of the approbation of the meeting in the talents and virtue of the present Administration, were passed. And an address was also sent forth to their constituents sounding in good sense and wisdom. The nomination for Governor and Lieutenant Governor was determined to take place at Utica, on 23d proximo.

We are afraid that much of the Wheat in this neighbourhood will be destroyed by the Rust—complaints are beginning to be loud and general among the farmers. The young Corn looks generally well, for the season.

The civil authorities of New York have received anonymous letters threatening to sue the city, if Ware and other criminals lately confined, are not liberated.

The last Washington Journal, contains a supplement to the Address of M. Clay to the Publick, relative to the charges of bargain and intrigue between him and M. Adams; by which it appears, that the "origina" of the charges preferred against these gentlemen, by Gen. Jackson, was not, as the General states, "at his fireside, where he thought he might speak on publick matters without having improper designs attributed to him."

It is proved by respectable witnesses, that, at the most publick places, on the road between Washington City and the residence of Gen. Jackson, in Tennessee, General Jackson, in conversation with his friends and others, repeatedly stated, that the people had been cheated out of the election—that Mr. Clay had made personal overtures to him, which he rejected, and that Mr. Clay dare not deny them; and a thousand of such vagaries.

It is also proved, by excellent testimony, that as early as August, 1824, Mr. Clay stated "that if the House of Representatives had to decide the election between Mr. Adams and Gen. Jackson, there was very little doubt on his mind as to the result—that they were acquainted with the pretensions of Mr. Adams and knew his superiority, and that superiority would secure his election. Let it be borne in mind, that the witnesses cited on this occasion, are many of them, friendly to the election of Gen. Jackson, and not the exclusive friends of Mr. Clay.

We hope, now, this false and scandalous charge, is finally put to rest; and buried forever in the "deep bosom of the ocean;" but we are constrained to remark, that after reading such a mass of irrefragable testimony, Gen. Jackson ought to feel himself bound, if he possess the magnanimity ascribed to him, to come out and offer his testimony in behalf of the innocence of these gentlemen, and confess the injustice he has done them.

To the Voters of Queen Ann's County.

FELLOW-CITIZENS,

The undersigned having been recently nominated Candidates for the State Legislature in this County, by a most respectable Committee of the Friends of the Administration, deeply regret that there are several private reasons which compel them to decline the honor intended them. They wish it however to be distinctly understood that their withdrawal from the pending contest, is not at all induced by either want of zeal for the success of the cause of the administration, or from any apprehension that the Ticket would be unsuccessful.

In declining to stand a poll at the approaching election, they are proud to know that there are many in the administration ranks whose convenience it would better suit to serve in the Legislature, and who would discharge their duties to their Constituents with faithfulness and ability. Before they conclude, they beg leave thus publicly to tender to the Committee of nomination, their sincere acknowledgements for this distinguished token of confidence and respect, and assure them that they seriously lament that circumstances not within their controul, oblige them to disappoint their expectations and wishes. In conclusion, the undersigned must express a hope that their friends will be convinced that no trivial matter has prevented them from gratifying their wishes, and they do hereby pledge themselves, that so far as their public support will go, to co-operate heartily with them in maintaining what they believe to be the true interests of the County.

June 21st 1828. D. C. HOPPER. JAMES ROE.

A CARD:

DANIEL C. HOPPER remembers with feelings of great pleasure and gratitude, the kind and liberal support of his Friends on former occasions, and is fully sensible of his obligations to them, and fears there are some of them, who are disposed to censure his conduct on this occasion, but he thinks if they were in possession of his reasons they would not censure him. He is also well aware of his obligations to his Fellow Citizens of Queen Ann's County, generally, and his entire inability even to compensate them to the extent of these obligations; but he, however, at the same time of this acknowledgement, flatters himself that if he has not served them with much ability, he has endeavoured to serve them with some fidelity.—He has for several years past, repeatedly declared his unwillingness ever again to be a Candidate for the State Legislature. If any thing could have shaken this determination, he is compelled to acknowledge that the late expression of the wishes of his Friends would have been sufficient, and he has had a severe conflict in his own mind, before he could absolutely refuse the call upon him.

June 21st, 1828.

A gentleman taking an apartment, said to the lady, "I assure you, madam, I never left lodging but my landlady shed tears." "I hope, sir," she answered, "it was not because you went away without paying."

For the Centreville Evening Times.

The following is a true copy of a correspondence between the Rev. Mr. Harris of Kent-Island, and myself, in reference to a report detrimental to his character as a minister of the Gospel. The publication will it is hoped satisfy the most fastidious that the report referred to, is without the least foundation in truth—and also have a tendency to open the eyes of the Independent yeomanry of our country, as to the true policy pursued by that reckless Party now arrayed against the Present Chief Magistrate in favour of an ambitious Military Chieftain.

J. B.

Queen Ann's County, June 14, 1828.

Rev. and Dear Sir, A report has become prevalent, in various parts of this county & especially where you are not well known, which if permitted to remain uncontradicted, may have a tendency to injure your religious character and destroy your future usefulness as a minister of Christ's Church! you are represented as having said "If Andrew Jackson be elected President of the U. S. he will go to Hell;"—or that "you would go to Hell" in case of his election! will you, my dear Sir, be so good as to state explicitly whether or not this report be well founded. You must be aware from that intinacy which has for a long time existed between us, that this request is not made for my own satisfaction, but for that of others. With respect,

Rev. Mr. Harris, J. B. Kent Island.

Kent Island 17th June, 1828.

DEAR SIR: On my return to the Island this morning, your favour of the 14th. was put into my hands, and I hasten to reply to the enquiry there made, whether or not I ever said, If Andrew Jackson be elected President of the U. S. he will go to Hell; or that "I would go to Hell" in case of his election! To you and to all others who are acquainted with me, whose words bear their own condemnation. To others it may be necessary to say, I never uttered the words reported in either, or in any form. I never on any occasion, or at any time, formed, fashioned, uttered or delivered in writing or otherwise a sentence similar to those reported, either in sense or construction; and the man with whom the report originated most ignorantly have perverted my language, or willfully asserted what he knew not to be the fact.

This report, my dear sir, was evidently intended for political effect, & clearly demonstrates to what pitiful shifts the unholy league against Mr. Adams & Clay, will resort to, to support a sinking cause. Character with them is of no account, they will sacrifice any man who may be considered the least impediment to the advancement of their favorite Hero.

I have called the Party arrayed against the administration, unholy. In my candid judgement it is unholy in its principles, and unholy in its future intention. I am aware that in the opposition, misrepresentation & prejudice have placed many men of fine talents and unsullied characters—My remarks are not levelled against them; They have had reference to the master spirits that managed and ruled this heterogeneous mass, & who would fain make the people, the tool of their ambition. I tremble for my country at the most remote idea of A. Jackson or any other "Military Chieftain" being elevated to the Presidency. Should he succeed—Should Divine Providence, in his wrath, place this man to rule over us; farewell liberty, once delightful to the Patriot's ear. Farewell independent America—then shall the knell of thy departing hours begin to toll.

(Signed,) Yours, sincerely, Mr. J. B. M. Harris.

*MR. WILLIAM STEVENS, will, by Divine permission, preach in the Methodist Meeting House, in this place, to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Also, at Church Hill Meeting House, to-morrow evening.

A Farm to Rent.

Intending to decline farming, the Subscriber will rent the farm where he now resides. It is situated in Wye Neck, on Wye river.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, is of Brick; large and convenient. The out Buildings are large and in tolerably good repair, and it is divided into three fields, of about 230 or 240 thousand corn-bills each; and four large lots, it is well calculated for a grazing farm, as the marshes are extensive and two never failing streams of fresh water running through it, and also salt water in two fields. There is also a great collection of fine fruit on it. Persons disposed to rent are invited to view it.

RUSSIAN DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST TURKEY.

Russia has, at length, declared her intention of seeking and obtaining satisfaction for all the injuries and insults received from the Porte. On the 4th inst two official documents, dated St. Petersburg, April 14th, (26) were received at Berlin. One is termed a Manifesto of the Emperor and the other a Declaration. In the first the Emperor complains of violation of the Treaties of Bucharest and Ackerman; of the Porte summoning its subjects to arms, enmasse, against the Russians, who were denominated irreconcilable enemies of Turkey; of the detention of Russian vessels, and the seizure of their cargoes; and of the intrigues of Turkey to prolong the war in Persia, The honor and dignity of Russia, the Emperor says, render further forbearance impossible, and require the address of all these grievances; to obtain which he has ordered his armies to advance into the Turkish territories, in full confidence of success from the protection of Heaven and the justice of his cause.

The Emperor declares the object of the war to be— To compel Turkey to pay all the expenses of the war, and indemnify his subjects for all the losses they have sustained.

To enforce the due and effectual observance of those treaties which Turkey has violated.

To secure the inviolable liberty of the Black Sea, and the free navigation of the Bosphorus.

He declares that he has not those ambitious designs which the Turkish Manifesto has imputed to him; that he has already countries, and nations, and cares enough; that, though he is at war for reasons independent of the Treaty of the 6th of July, he will not depart from the stipulations of it, which he will fulfil in concert with his Allies.

In conclusion, he declares that he will not lay down his arms till he has obtained the results stated in this Declaration; and that he expects them from the benedictions of Him to whom justice, and a pure conscience, have never yet appealed in vain.

CORSICA FARM, FOR RENT, for the next year. The soil is of a good quality, and the Buildings in excellent repair. This Farm is now occupied by Mr. J. Grewell, lately, by Mr. John Smith. ANN WRIGHT, PERE WILMER. June 21.
